Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The recitation "A time-slot-coded signal which receives at regular time intervals a synchronization pattern which is selected such that it differs by a prescribable Hamming distance from all the valid data signals of the time slot coding independently of the respective time slot of the data signals, and that it differs by a prescribable Hamming distance from all time-shifted versions of the synchronization pattern" does not appear that a claim reciting a signal encoded with functional descriptive material falls within any of the categories of patentable subject matter set forth in paragraph 101. In other words, the claimed invention is not a practical Application by Physical Transformation. Further, claiming "A time-slot-coded signal" considered as claiming a data structure, and data structures not claimed as embodied in computer-readable media are descriptive material per se and are not statutory because they are not capable of causing functional change in the computer. See, e.g., Warmerdam, 33 F.3d at 1361, 31 USPQ2d at 1760 (claim to a data structure per se held nonstatutory).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-6, and 8-9 are allowed.

Art Unit: 2616

4. Claim 7 would be allowable if the claim amended to overcome the rejection under 35 U.S.C. 101.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
